Graeme Bethune

Chairman

Graeme Bethune is Chairman of EnergyQuest, a company he established in 2005 to provide independent energy analysis and strategic advice to companies and governments on Australian energy.

EnergyQuest is now the definitive source of data and analysis on Australian oil, gas and electricity. EnergyQuest clients include most major Australian energy producers, buyers and governments.

EnergyQuest's flagship report, EnergyQuarterly provides timely and comprehensive statistics and analysis on all aspects of Australian energy.

Graeme is regularly asked to speak at energy conferences in Australia and Asia and his comments are regularly sought by the domestic and international media.

Between 1995 and 2005 Graeme held senior executive positions with Santos, one of Australia's leading energy companies, with responsibilities for finance, business development and investor relations.

Graeme is a former Chair of the Australian Gas Industry Trust and a former member of the Executive Committee of the International Gas Union.

He has a first class honours degree in economics from Monash University and a PhD from the Australian National University. He has undertaken the executive program at the Graduate School of Business at Stanford University and is a Fellow of the Australian Institute of Energy. He is also an Adjunct Professor at the University of Queensland – Centre for Natural Gas.
